Submission Instructions for Workshops and Roundtables

Deadline September 9, 2026, 17:00 hrs, ET.

What is a Workshop?

A workshop proposal is a group of individuals who want to hold a workspace (without papers) and submit it for consideration by the track chair as a prearranged session. Workshops provide an opportunity for the exchange of information and ideas among several individuals. They are organized to address a theme; the discussion is informal and does not include formal paper presentations.

A workshop participant is not considered a paper presenter since these sessions do not have formal paper presentations. Workshop participation counts as an active role. Workshop proposals must have a minimum of three presenters (without paper) and there is no maximum. They must also have a chair, (maximum 2). The roles of session organizer (maximum two) and discussant are not mandatory but are highly recommended. Only one discussant is allowed.

What is a Roundtable?

A roundtable includes a space for groups or research teams already formed or formed ad hoc to debate and present their progress or results on research or on topics of concern. A roundtable participant is not considered a paper presenter since these sessions do not have formal paper presentations. Roundtable participation counts as an active role.

Roundtable proposals must have a minimum of three presenters (without paper) and there is no maximum. They must also have a chair, (maximum 2). The roles of session organizer (maximum two) and discussant are not mandatory but are highly recommended. Only one discussant is allowed.

Before you begin, please note:

- To be included in the workshop or roundtable proposal, the LASA membership or All Access subscription (membership + congress registration with discount) of all participants must expire after September 9, 2026. For other key dates, please click here.
- If someone is not appearing in the proposal system, it is because their membership or All Access subscription expires on or before September 9, 2026. Please ask them to join or renew their LASA membership or All Access.
- You will not be able to save a proposal in the system to continue working on it later. You must first submit the proposal before you can edit it. Once successfully submitted, you will see a confirmation message on your screen and receive an email. You will be able to edit the proposal until September 9, 2026, 17:00 hrs, ET.

Steps for Submitting a Workshop or Roundtable

Step 1: Go to the proposal submission page Select Submit a proposal and enter your LASA member ID and password.

Step 2: Select Submit or Edit a Proposal.

Step 3: Select Submit a Paper, Panel, or Special Event.

Step 4: Select the program track for your workshop or roundtable.

Step 5: Under Session Type select Workshop or Roundtable.

Step 6: Enter the title of the workshop or roundtable and a short abstract about it. Then, click Accept and Continue when finished. The session title must be capitalized and must have a maximum 25 words. The abstract must have a maximum of 250 words.

Step 7: Enter the workshop or roundtable participants: at least three presenters and one chair (maximum two). One discussant may also be included (optional but highly recommended), as well as one or two session organizers (optional). To add participants, enter their last names (or part of it) in the box, click on Search by Last Name, and select their role: Add Session Organizer, Add Chair, Add Discussant or Add Presenter. Continue until all participants are added.

Step 8: When finished adding all the workshop or roundtable participants, click on Accept and Continue.

Step 9: Review the information, edit as necessary, and then click on Accept and Continue.

You have now submitted a workshop or roundtable proposal for LASA2027. You will receive a confirmation message on your screen and a confirmation email. If you do not receive an email, please contact lasa@lasaweb.org to verify your submission was received. This verification must be done before September 9, 2026, 17:00 hrs, ET.

Thank you for your interest in LASA2027!
